

Soprano Elena Flores is a performing artist & songwriter. Her versatile artistic approach is shaped from years of classical training & experience, combined with a passion for singing music in mainstream genres. While based in North Carolina, she became a prominent performer at venues in & around the Piedmont Triad, both with bands & as a solo artist. Recently, Elena was a featured artist for Irish Tenor Emmet Cahill's 2023 summer tour. She showcases original music & an array of genres that have inspired her style through the years, namely oldies, pop, Broadway and jazz.

In addition to performing, she is paving her way as a recording artist. Since the release of her debut pop single "Honey" October 2021, her output of new music, both independent & collaborative, remains steady. Each song demonstrates her unique style, dynamic range, & distinctive tone. A true crossover artist, Elena is dedicated to sharing her vision, & creating effective musical experiences for every audience.
